

Danielle Johnson, MD, FAPA, earned her MD from Drexel University COM and completed psychiatry residency at University of Cincinnati COM/The University Hospital. She is an Assistant Clinical Professor in UC COM Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neurosciences. She is a board member of the International Society of Reproductive Psychiatry. She practices at Lindner Center of HOPE in Mason, OH, where she helped develop their Women's Mental Health Program and was promoted to Chief Medical Officer in 2019. She was a Cincinnati Magazine Top Doctor from 2019 through 2022 and was awarded the 2020 Excellence in Mental Healthcare Exemplary Psychiatrist Award by NAMI Southwest Ohio.